

Assumptions! →

The physical aspect of Yoga (asanas) makes people stronger, more resilient and improves their physical wellbeing. Meditation and breathing techniques improve their mental wellbeing

Improved mental and physical wellbeing makes people less violent, less likely to fall back into crime. They are also less prone to get sick

Healthier/happier persons are more productive more likely to engage in socially desired behaviours